

Images, texture, and freedom

Cartoon & Sculpture exhibition by Abecor

Artists' Safe Haven 2024

An initiative by Justice

The artist

Abecor is a multidisciplinary artist and graphic journalist from Bolivia, and a resident of the Artists' Safe Haven initiative. Approaching art as a tool for social transformation, he invites the audience to reflect critically on the right to freedom of expression. Each piece is designed to provoke thought and challenge oppression. Despite the personal risks, Abecor remains steadfast in his pursuit of advocacy through his craft. His residency in The Hague marks a milestone in his career, allowing him to further develop his artistic practice, and exhibit his work internationally for the first time.

“Reading is a fundamental part of what many of us love. It opens doors, windows, journeys and horizons. It makes you use your mind. It is a nexus for everything.”

Abecor

The exhibition

“Images, texture, and freedom” showcases a combination of sculptures and cartoons that highlight Abecor’s perspective on pressing social and political issues using humour and satire. During his residency, Abecor developed a series of ceramic and bronze sculptures reflecting on the importance of access to information. In this exhibition, these artworks are shown in dialogue with a selection of the many cartoons that Abecor made over the last nineteen years addressing the struggle for justice and social equality in Bolivia.

Artists' Safe Haven

The Artists' Safe Haven initiative, founded by Justice & Peace Netherlands, provides temporary relocation for artists who face threats because of their work. Supported by the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the initiative allows artists to continue their work and reclaim civic and artistic spaces.

Empower Abecor to continue his ongoing crucial work and activism by donating.

All proceeds will support the artist and his artistic practices.

How it works

Submit your payment through the donation form. Each sculpture and cartoon is followed by a number. Fill in the number(s) that corresponds to the artwork of your choice in the comments field of the form. Include your contact details (name, email, and phone number). All artworks will remain in the exhibition space until 19 October, at 16:00.

Pick up your purchased artwork either on 19 October at the Grey Space from 16:00 – 17:30, or during weekdays at the Justice & Peace office by appointment via email to info@justiceandpeace.nl.
